OUR PRESIDENT AND HIS MESSAGE

Mars Hill College operates for its students. It is therefore inspiring to observe the growth and development of the students during the period of their study here. Evidences of their growth and development are revealed in dignity, poise, and maturing scholarship. The Mars Hill Baptist Church and other churches in our larger communities play an important role in what is achieved from year to year.

The students are to be congratulated upon the quality and attractiveness of the LAUREL.

Cordially,

HOYT BLACKWELL

FOOTBALL '58

The Lions found going rough this season as they clashed head-on with vengeful conference opponents eager to match the strength of the WCJCC Champions of 1957. Minus the services of many veteran performers due to graduation, Coach Don Henderson's fighting charges faced the season with visions of better days ahead. Frequently throughout the schedule, the young players were called upon to carry much of the burden. The earlier contests served as a preview of the power Coach Henderson can assemble on the football field in the future. Another host of veterans will leave the campus at the end of this summer and their absence will be noted on the field, but, barring injuries, everything should go well. Evidenced by the eager participation and sincerity of the boys in the spring training, Mars Hill can look forward to a bright future. The "young movement" will be a year older — with its share of experience.

Coach Henderson gives the team some last minute instructions.

On to another Mars Hill touchdown.

The annual Athletic Banquet of Mars Hill College got into full swing with the theme "Gold in Them Thar Hills." Mr. Vernon Wood was Master of Ceremonies and introduced several speakers who were members of the faculty, including our president, Dr. Hoyt Blackwell, who welcomed the members of each sport team. Coach Don Henderson presented the coveted awards to Gene Hall, Conrad Keesecker, and Jerry Brown.

Conrad Keesecker receives "Best Blocker" award from Coach Henderson at the Athletic Banquet.

ALBERT BLACKWELL

With quick wit, ready knowledge and good looks so imbrued . . . This young lad gives full credit to his mom's home-cooked food . . . As apt with the slide rule as the concert eighty-eights . . . Quite high in points of quality, this chief marshal rates.

HILTON BONNIWELL

This infirmity inhabitant and veep for I.R.C. . . . Has come from Baltimore to us and says of all, "Fungi." . . . A zoology enthusiast, he's found among book worms. . . . And often toward Mount Olive he the mission buggy turns.

BOB BLANTON

Flaming red hair of the fever blister kind . . . Tops this Gastonian's inquisitive mind . . . All decked out in blue, he sings bass in the Choir . . . And then presides well at the Sunday School hour.

SUE CAMPBELL

So typical of that blonde that gentlemen prefer . . . Is this stunning lass of Roxboro, that now we'll speak of her . . . The president of vice for the college B.S.U. . . . Heads for a nursing future with an "even brighter view."

THOMAS BRYANT

Another Morehead scholar is this U. S. Coast Guard vet . . . Who is aimed at Carolina and will be a lawyer yet . . . Dormitory president and men's student council v. p. . . . So this brilliant South Carolinian whom the students know as "Tee."

LORETTA DUNCAN

She is president of Non and also the Y.W.A. . . . And can be found at the library almost any time of day . . . She's little and sweet, known as little "bit" . . . Always with a smile and a quiet ready wit.

PAUL JACOBS

One of Mother Sparks's boys is this Virginia lad . . . A friendly smile for everyone, he never seems to be sad . . . He's a real campus leader with many things to do . . . A great personal quality is his faithfulness to Eu.

ARLENE EDWARDS

"I'm impressed" is her comment for everything right . . . Except for three call-downs received late one night . . . Student Council, Dean's List, and Euthalian mascot . . . All furnish ideas for her first novel's plot.

JEANNE COLEMAN

An "army brat" with straight "A" grades . . . A diamond on her hand, a smile that never fades . . . Active in church, a marshal as well . . . She has more good qualities than we could ever tell.

MARTA FREDY

A blond with brains, a real South Carolina belle . . . Editor of the Laurel, a job she does well . . . She likes to do math but that's not all . . . Another object of her affection is a fellow named Paul.

MARY LAWRENCE

Pretty, cool, sophisticated is this N. C. resident . . . Not just a Clio, but C-I term president . . . Talented in dramatics, a finger in every pie . . . She goes about her work with a twinkle in her eye.

ALLEN PAGE

"Big Daddy" is the president of the B.S.U. . . . His ability to work is nothing new . . . Always busy, never time to dally . . . But always manages to find time for Sally.

CAROL ANN LAWTON

She majors in art but not all together . . . For you can see her with Jerry in all kinds of weather . . . Editor of the Hilltop, but has loads of fun . . . She's never in a hurry to get the job done.

SALLY RIGSBEE

Allen's "little mama," she's always full of cheer . . . And as their president, the Cios hold her dear . . . Piano virtuoso and a math whiz too . . . She always lives up to the ideals of "white and blue."

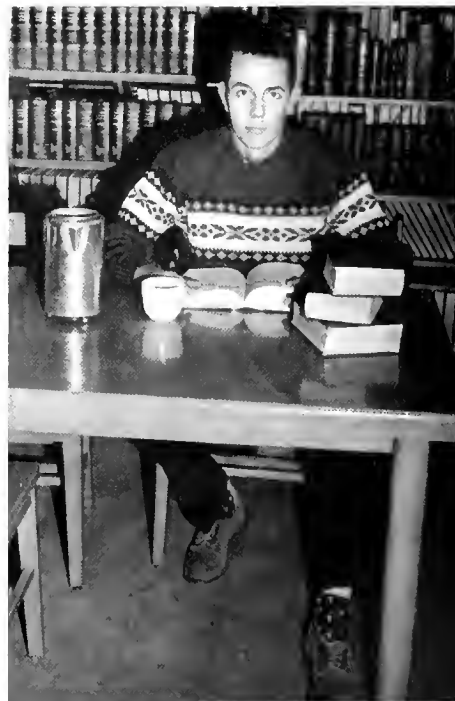

DAVID PRICE

Just as Davy Crockett was born in Tennessee . . . So was this C-I Phi president by the name of David E. . . . At meetings such as Scriblerus, he's often to be found . . . But soon with Morehead scholarship he'll be Carolina bound.

DON VAN DE VEER

As adept as his namesake, the ancient Don Juan . . . Is this Euthalian president with the plaid jacket on . . . Leader in Mission Council and active in IRC . . . Works this Baltimore lad, a true Southern-bred Yankee.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Linking the college students and the local church, the Baptist Student Union serves as the unifying force of all religious organizations on the campus. It seeks to develop the spiritual and social life of the student by giving a foundation for a life of Christian endeavor. The Executive Council is composed of executive officers and representatives of the unit organizations. The Greater Council is composed of working committees headed by Executive Council members.

The B.S.U. sponsors vespers, morning watch, and prayer groups as well as the traditional Thanksgiving program, seasonal parties in the dormitories, and other religious and social activities.

MINISTERIAL CONFERENCE

The Ministerial Conference is composed of young men who have felt the call to the ministry. Weekly meetings offer them training in preaching and Bible reading. These ministerial students serve as ushers for the Sunday evening services in the local church, direct the evening worship once a quarter, and help promote a bond of Christian fellowship in other church activities. The faculty counselors, aided by years of experience as ministers and teachers, offer suggestions and criticisms which are invaluable to these future pastors.

Volunteers for Christ is an organization for students other than ministerial students who have dedicated their lives to church-related vocations. This volunteer service band meets once a month for programs on missions, on personal evangelism, and on opportunities for Christian service. Mission projects are a vital part of the activities of the Volunteers for Christ. The group strives constantly to stimulate greater interest in missions, to give members opportunities to participate in service projects, and to better prepare students for meeting the needs of their world, in anticipation of the time when these Volunteers for Christ shall answer the challenge of the Great Commission.

The officers serving during the past year were: Nancy Carroll, President; Phyllis Evans, First Vice President; Linda Canipe, Social Vice President; Shirley Garrison, Devotional Vice President; Kay Archer, Mission Council Co-Chairman; Pat Morgan, Secretary; Hilton Bonniwell, Publicity Chairman; Betty Early, Pianist; Melissa Yelton, Chorister.

This group meets together to study about the various mission fields and the activities of the mission workers there. The Y.W.A. sponsors the Lottie Moon Christmas offering and directs other missionary activities on campus.

The highlight of the year was the Y.W.A. house party held on the Mars Hill campus in March.

TIM MURRAY, Business Manager

MORRISON LAWING,
Staff Photographer

The staff leaned back and heaved a sigh of relief as the last copy sheets of the 1959 Laurel were rushed off to the printer several days after the final deadline. As we all began the long wait for the fateful outcome, we recalled the events of the year. Marta Fredy was the chief who kept pushing us on. That is, she pushed us until someone happened to mention coffee; then we could all take a break. She was an expert at losing pictures and tearing the office apart trying to find them. Roger Shaw was the second big wheel and one of the world's worst typists. The only reason he ever tried to type was to have an excuse to sit in the only comfortable chair in the office. June McCoy usually sat around looking at boys' pictures and wondering if she was going to have to do any work. Other members of the staff wandered in occasionally to offer their assistance. Morrison Lawing was our photographer. Not just anybody can take a picture standing on his head. Neither can Morrison — he finds it difficult enough standing on his feet. Tim Murray, the business manager, lived the entire year as a sophisticated bum. With his sales ability, fast line, and sob stories,

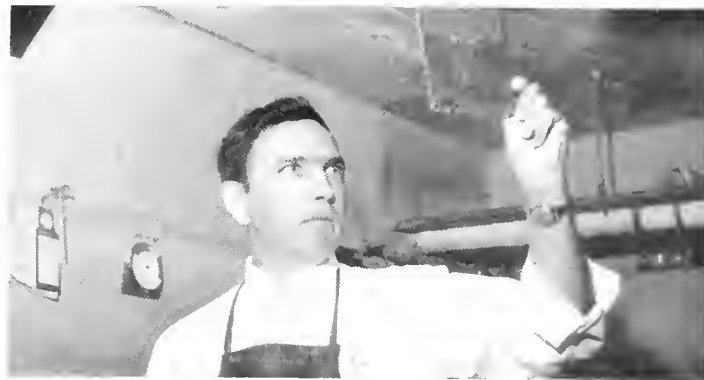

JUNE MCCOY, Assistant Editor. ROGER SHAW, Associate Editor

he managed to keep the Laurel from going completely broke. Henry Snyder wore out three pairs of shoes walking around in Asheville trying to sell ads to help this worthy cause. Then, of course, there were Gwen Picklesimer, Ann Mercer, Kathy Glore, Rex Stephens, and Ronald Keller who were invaluable in identifying the class pictures, although they didn't know any of the people in them. Gene Yarborough could always come through with a sports write-up so descriptive it would make Mel Allen sound sick.

The staff is grateful for the help of Mr. Smith with the photography. He never refused us — he just gritted his teeth cheerfully and went to work. Our greatest inspiration was Miss Linney. It was for her that we did our best — not because we wanted to, but because we had no other choice.

'59 HILLTOP

Here we are, looking back . . . over fifteen mellowing issues of the Hilltop. We, the 1958-59 staffers, look back and remember the experiences, inspirations, and joys that are written across every page.

A factual diary of campus activities, the Hilltop endeavors to provide the best of news coverage and informative features. And those editorials . . . You, the student body, responded quickly and almost always with gratitude. Perhaps it is well to call the Hilltop the diary of Mars Hill College, because it is the only consolidated student record of activities on campus. Hilltop files, dating from way back when, offer an informal history of the school.

From a few scribbled notes on a pad, to assignments equally distributed to reporters, each issue of this diary progressed, sometimes slowly, but surely. The late copy, anguished cries of "Well, how do I find out?" from cub reporters, heated arguments between the editor and the associate editor over what should go where in the layout, the calming assurance of the able advisor, who knew all the answers or, at least, how to find them, tedious hours spent on the paste-up and in trying to tie up all the very odd odds and ends that never fit. Then there was a day of rest until the page proofs came in on the six-o'clock bus from Asheville with the ink not yet dry. A loyal staff took the difficulties in stride and worked even harder.

The sadness we feel because this rich year has drawn to a close will soon be replaced by the fondest memories and we will gladden these memories with gratefulness. The golden experiences shine through these mellowing Hilltops in our hands, for it is this four-paged epistle which has brought each of us closer to our fellow students and given us a greater love for M.H.C.

THE COLLEGE CHOIR

RUFUS NORRIS, Director

Composed of many of the finest voices on the campus, the College Choir is one of Mars Hill's prized possessions. In addition to participating in many college functions, the choir makes an annual spring tour. This year the choir toured South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida.

Its most outstanding presentation this year was Bach's "Magnificat" presented just before Christmas holidays.

BASKETBALL '58-'59

The Mars Hill Lions' basketball aggregation of 1958-59, under head coach Bob Edwards, clawed its way to four straight triumphs over Asheville-Biltmore, Gardner-Webb, Lees-McRae, and Bluefield to open the season activity.

The Lions tied for fourth place in the Western Carolinas Junior College Conference with a record of 5-9. In the first round of the conference tournament at Spruce Pine, Mars Hill was defeated by Wingate, the club which eventually captured the four-day event, 36-66.

The local five treated the campus to an exciting brand of basketball, using a fast-breaking attack which netted an average of 72.5 points per contest. Mars Hill reached a seasonal high on December 8 as they downed Gardner-Webb in McConnell gymnasium, 107-97.

Coach Edwards' crew was led in scoring and floor play by Asheville's Mickey Hoyle, who averaged 20.5 markers per game and who was a unanimous all-conference choice for the second straight year. Hoyle's personal high for the season was a 41 point effort against Gardner-Webb. Ray DeHart, a freshman from Hickory, was second in individual point totals with an average of 15.4 per outing, and Jim Alexander of Lynchburg, Virginia, was third with an 11.4 mark. Others seeing considerable duty were Burt Birchfield, Bob Reed, Dan Waddell, Clifton McClure, and Maxie Welch, who joined the team at mid-term.

Eligible to return for another year of play are DeHart, Birchfield, Reed, Waddell, Wayne Teague, David Bradley, and Howard Wood.

The Mars Hill baseballers opened their 1959 season with only two veterans from the 1958 squad on the team. Returning were pitcher Paul Williams and shortstop Chip Moore.

Under the direction of Coach Don Henderson, the Lions won their first game of the year, 7-2, over Brevard, as Williams hurled a five-hitter. The locals received timely hitting from freshmen Wilbur Efird, who counted a double and a triple, and Benny Candler, who had three singles.

Mars Hill showed spirited play throughout the season and gave promise of a first-place finish in the Western Carolinas Junior College Conference. A relatively inexperienced club, the Lions got good hitting from first-year men Bob Collins, Burt Birchfield, and Tom Cooper. Cooper is a sophomore who did not play last year.

DRAMATEERS

For those who like good plays and enjoy acting, the Dramateers afford opportunity for expression of dramatic talent and technical skill in the production of plays of recognized literary quality.

"The Skylight" by Elizabeth Watson was presented at the 1958 Commencement. The play dealt with the early struggle of George Washington Carver to secure an education. Kaufman and Hart's hilarious "George Washington Slept Here" was presented by the faculty and students during the summer session and repeated during orientation. George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" was the major fall production. "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke was presented in chapel before the Christmas holidays.

Dear Miss Fredy:

How difficult it was to select a queen for the Beauty Section of the LAUREL! Any of the contestants could justly warrant the honor.

My choice is based upon beauty, personality, and congeniality, so far as photographs permit.

Your college is fortunate to have so many young ladies who possess obvious charm. It has been my pleasure to meet them vicariously.

May I wish you continued success with your yearbook, the LAUREL.
